

LAUNCH OF THE WORKPLACE SCORECARD

CAPE TOWN, STOCKHOLM (29 August, 2011) – AIDS Accountability International (AAI) is today launching the AIDS Accountability Workplace Scorecard, a tool that will enable the monitoring and benchmarking of AIDS strategies and activities in the workplace in the countries and sectors most affected by HIV and AIDS.

Dr. Sophia Kisting, Director of the ILO Programme on HIV/AIDS and the world of work said: “The AIDS Accountability Workplace Scorecard will help challenge workplace partners towards yet greater impact of their all-important workplace HIV programmes. This most useful tool is timely and will support companies to more optimally implement the universal principles of the ILO Recommendation on HIV and AIDS in their work.”

AAI wishes to thank the members of the Workplace Scorecard Development Team for the time and commitment they have devoted to the development of the Workplace Scorecard. Visit the new Workplace Scorecard website to find out more.