Updates from the TUDCN secretariat

Agenda 2030

What has been done:

- A Trade Union Engagement Strategy has been developed, which focuses on mobilisation and engagement, advocacy and implementation, and monitoring and reporting
- A key piece of the engagement strategy is parallel trade union monitoring of the SDGs and Targets

Next steps:

- A pamphlet and toolkit will be finalized to support the mobilisation and engagement pillar of the strategy
- Advocacy work will continue, especially related to the national review processes and at the HLPF
- The trade union monitoring matrix will be finalized for use at national level in parallel with the annual official review

OECD/DAC

What has been done:

- There is a new DAC Chair Charlotte Petri Gornitzka (formerly the head of Swedish SIDA)
- Engagement with the OECD/DAC has increased in recent years and is highlighted by the annual TU-DAC Forum as well as participation in High and Senior Level Meetings.
- TUDCN has been following a number of recent discussions/decisions taken by the DAC at High Level, in particular around the modernisation of the ODA concept, creating a new measure called total official support for sustainable development (TOSSD) and the promotion of blended finance.

Next steps:

- Work at DAC Level will pick up again following the adoption of the Agenda 2030 and the Addis Ababa Agenda for Action, especially in terms of the role of donors in implementation these agreements.
- The above mentioned issues in large part remain works in progress, and therefore present important areas for the TUDCN to engage, for example will undertake a two year work cycle looking at the issue of blended finance.
- Our next TU-DAC Forum (set to take place Spring 2017) will showcase research on Donor Support to Decent Work

- Trade unions remain a constituent of the steering committee
- A major focus for the past year has been on carrying out the biannual monitoring process including improving the framework and indicators (esp. On private sector)

HLM 2 High Level Segment

HLM2 plenary sessions will focus on:

1. Progress and challenges for effective development
 - Anne Cecile Coly (respondent)
2. How effective development can deliver the SDGs
 - Marita Gonzalez (panelist)
 - ILO (pushed for)
3. Learning from south-south and triangular co-operation
 - Andres Larisgoitia (panelist)
4. Economic empowerment of women and youth
5. Leaving no-one behind
6. Inclusive multi-stakeholder partnerships
 - Carolyn Khamati Mugalla (panelist)
7. The private sector's contribution to sustainable development
 - Julius Cainglet (panelist)
 - ILO (pushed for)

Trade Union Key Asks

- Recognizing that aid and development effectiveness principles are the partnerships foundation and value added
- Continuing to strengthen the monitoring process
- Promoting and learning from the social dialogue as an established multistakeholder partnership
- Contributing to the Agenda 2030 through making development cooperation more effective
- Continuing to champion the Human Rights Based Approach and the Enabling Environment for Civil Society
- Ensuring coherence between the promotion of the private sector and the development effectiveness principles
- Renewing a mandate which focuses on implementation through more concrete objectives and working arrangements

HLM 2 Nairobi Outcome and future of GPEDC

The Nairobi outcome document

- Very generally trying to bridge the GPEDC to other processes, especially at the UN Level
- We have focused very much on the accountability of business and the promotion of the social dialogue
 - Refer to TU inputs on NOD

The renewed mandate and working arrangements

- The proposed renewed mandate is built on four pillars focusing on the core AE/DE business and accountability function, engaging new actors, creating spaces for knowledge exchange, and using evidence and data
- We have suggested that the broad lines are agreeable but the subtext requires further thinking
 - Refer to TU inputs on renewed mandate

HLM 2 Other IMPORTANT issues (seriously)

- A Global Partnership Initiative on Social Dialogue in Development was accepted
 - Refer to the submission/call for proposals
 - We now must identify non trade union partners (perhaps linking with the global deal)
- The GPEDC has completed it's second monitoring round and released its progress report
 - Refer to the CPDE secretariats analysis of the progress report
 - In general, the summary of the monitoring paints a positive picture which is not nearly consistent with some of the realities and even findings
